READING

Actions
What did we do?

-Used our Walton School Benchmarks (curriculum levels) as indicators of progress and achievement for reporting. OTJs were made at the end of each term using these and this data is reported to BoT for systematic analysis and strategic direction during the year for allocation of resourcing.

-BoT funding resources to support and target Priority Learners, such as teacher aides, effective online literacy and numeracy programmes, teacher professional development.

-Each teacher identified and monitored Priority Learners within their rooms through the termly OTJs.

Reading At or Above - Whole School

Reasons for the variance
Why did it happen?

When comparing the initial assessment of where our SOY data would be and the actual Term One OTJ results, the starting point for our At/Above ākonga was well below the predetermined amount. This put our initial targets a lot further off than expected. Considering this, and looking at the termly OTJ graph for students At or Above, it's clear to see we made excellent achievement progress every term. The final amount of 80% at or above is a fantastic effort.

Evaluation
Where to next?

Matamata Kaahui Ako PLD targeting:
-Culturally Responsive and Relational Pedagogy
-Teacher Efficacy and transformation through Spirals of Inquiry

-Regular moderation & discussion at staff meetings of how to effectively evaluate where a student is achieving and the types of evidence that proves this (modelling books, Ko Au bks, student books, etc).

-Use the Special Needs budget when and where applicable to help support learners with special educational needs.

Planning for next year:

- With yet another year filled with disruptions and obstacles due to Covid and illnesses, the focus for 2023 will be to 'get back on track' so that our kaiako can gain consistency with their teaching and our akonga can receive regular, strong learning programmes.
- Use staff meetings and TODs to bring the kaiako team together to refocus on best practices and discuss classroom teaching and learning.
- Finally, being able to the implement the Professional Growth Cycle for kaiako that we have tried and failed to do sue to social distancing, ongoing positive covid cases of teachers, and illnesses. Without these obstacles, we'll be able to put in place a PGC that is relevant, effective, and purposeful for building teacher capabilities.

FINAL COMMENT

Considering this was our third year where tamariki absentism had a major impact on our teaching and learning due to Covid and other illness related matters, we feel our tamariki did very well due to the outstanding efforts of our teachers and staff. The year was fraught with interruptions, uncertainty, absences, and postponements, all of which played a big part in creating challenging learning conditions.

Our Walton School community continued to be amazing throughout the year and thankfully our school managed to reschedule cancelled term one events later in the year, although this too put added pressure on what were already full, busy terms.

Not all data is where we wanted it to be, but data isn't everything at the end of the day; student wellbeing is. This is what we need to continue to monitor and manage for 2023 whilst aiming to have our tamariki continue to progress, achieve, and having fun!
